Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 09 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cold, wintry showers in north, patchy rain in south.

Today:
Northern areas will be cold, with a mix of sunshine and wintry showers, bringing slight snow cover in places, especially early and late. Winds continuing to ease. Southern areas often cloudy with some rain in places.

Tonight:
Snow showers and ice affecting parts of northern Scotland. Scattered wintry showers in other northern areas, along with widespread frost. Southern UK, less cold with patchy rain or perhaps sleet.

Saturday:
Bright with scattered wintry showers in the north but decent sunny spells in places. Cloudier further south, patchy rain or sleet especially in far southeast, possibly more widely later. Cold.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Cold with sunny spells and wintry showers on Sunday. Thereafter, cloudy in the north with rain or showers at times. Mostly dry with south with sunny spells. Turning less cold.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.